CONNECTION MADE AT THE COLUMBUS CON

Upraise From 100 Level in Ore to Tunnel Level-Future of the Stock On the Exchange.

Connection was made last night between the upraise from the 100 level of the Columbus Con, and the tunnel level, and for the whole distance between the two levels a large body of high grade ore has been added to the reserve of rapidly that it begins to look like old times for this Cottonwood producer. That additional good news will be re-leased in the near future, when the drifts now being run on the 300 and 400 levels get under the same ore body, the management has no doubt. The ore opened up above the 100 level carries good values in silver, though copper redominates.

In addition to determining the continuance of this same ore chute between the two levels, this development work is important in that it enables the company to extract its ore economically. All that the company has to do now is to drop the ore to the 100 level and wheel it to the shaft near by, where a good hoist is installed. Manager Jacobson figures that this connection will do son figures that this connection will do away with the work of 16 men. The ore in this new ore body is said to run $40 or better.

The future of Columbus stock on the exchange is a matter of much speculation just now. Its sensational rise last week from less than 80 cents to $1.76 has already but a number of brokers very hard, and there is some diffi-culty in filling orders. One broker said this morning that he had several thouthis morning that he had several thousand shares of cash stock coming to him but those who had sold it were asking for more time. One broker sought the intervention of the secretary of the exchange this morning to compet another brokerage firm to deliver Columbus Con. stock which he had purchased. The firm made delivery of the stock before all of the members of the exchange and thereafter the stock was chased. The firm made delivery of the stock before all of the members of the exchange, and thereafter the stock was traded in down to $1.32½, though a firmer tone was exhibited at the close.

Just what the stock will do in the future is a matter of speculation. There are those who confidently assert that the worst is over and lower prices will prevail soon, or at least the stock will not go any higher. They say that plenty of stock is available here, and more will be coming from the cast, which will ease the market and bring about normal conditions. Others take a more pessimistic view of the matter and say that the present lull will be followed by another soaring advance in a week or two, as soon as the attempt is made to fill the great number of "shorts" which are known to be out.

A man who is not a member of the exchange said this morning that he has bought nearly 20,000 shares between 70 cents and a dollar, and he has not received a share of his purchases yet, and several thousand shares are said to have been cash, the balance being futures. What will happen when yet, and several thousand shares are said to have been cash, the balance being futures. What will happen when the filling of his order begins, in addition to the large number of other orders, which have been sold as 30-day and 60-day futures, can be easily imagined, unless more stock is available than is evidently on hand now. One broker said there is plenty of stock, and the worst is over, but those who have gloomy forebodings of the future assert that this cannot be so or it would not be necessary to seek the assistance of the exchange, as was done this morning, to have orders for the stock filled.

It is intimated in high places, that stock filled.

It is intimated in high places, that more stock has been shorted than is available, obtainable at these prices and that during the next two or three weeks one of the worst "squeezes" in the alstory of the Sait Lake exchange is likely to occur. As to how much truth there is in these reports time alone will tell.

PRICES FIRMER TODAY.

Colorado Was Active at Better Prices But Columbus Con. Weakened.

Some improvement in prices was recorded this morning on the mining ex-change. Slight advances were general all along the line with the exception of Columbus Con., which, in spite of the statements that a day of reckoning for the "shorts" was at hand, sold as for the "shorts" was at hand, sold as low as $1.40 at the morning call, and later on the open board fell back to $1.32\%, with a recovery to $1.37\% at the close. Opinions conflict as to the future course of the stock, though the feeling is quite general that Columbus will cause more trouble for the brokers of the near future.

Colorado was active this morning at better prices, sales being made as high as SS. Iron Blossom recorded a sale as high as 60. Lower Mammoth stifas high as 60. Lower Mammoth stiffened up to 43½ at the opening but failed to maintain its position, selling as low as 42 at the close. Sloux was also in better trim today, as was Uncle Sam. The former sold at 45 and the latter was traded in at 46.

latter was traded in at 46.

Mason Valley came out at a bid of $1.96 and Prince Con. released a small lot at $1.15. Grand Central showed greater activity this morning and the stock moved up to $2.25. Provo and South Columbus Con. were both wanted at the same price, 8 cents a share. Daly Judge made a sale of 100 shares at $5. Closing quotations were as follows:

OVATION TO SAMUEL NEWHOUSE, Hon, Samuel Newhouse stepped into the new Mining Exchange building this afternoon just as the call was on, having just arrived from the east. Proceedings were interrupted long enough to give him a cordial reception. Mr. Newhouse was quite overcome by the demonstration and made a brieffield resolution of the tenth of the control of the con talk thanking the members for the re-ception and teiling them of the wave of prosperity which he had seen in the east, and which he said was working westward. The incident occupied only a few moments, and the busy call went

ORE FIND IN NEBO DISTRICT.

(Special to Tue News.) John S. Blain of Spring City, secretary of the Mineral Home Mining company, operating in the Nebo district, has received good news from the men laboring there. The report is that they have struck ore in the Russell claim. The ore is an iron carbonate and carries with it values similar to the ore found in the Eva property, which joins the Mineral Rome property on the north.

BULLION CANYON STRIKE.

Large Body of Ore Encountered in Shaft Now Down 150 Feet.

According to reports from Builion canyon, Iron county, a very important discovery of ore has been made in the shaft which is being sunk there with the view of determining the value of the ore bodies at depth. It is stated that the shaft which is now down 150 feet has encountered ore all the way during the last 50 feet, and it has widened until at that depth it covers the bottom of the shaft. The importance of the disclosume will not be fully determined until the company begins drifting on the vein, which will probably not be done until another 50 feet of sinking has been done. The management is said to be feeling jugilant over the developments, believing that the mother lode has been encountered, and that it is only a question of development before they will have a dividend payer. Shaft Now Down 150 Feet.

TWO FEET OF RICH ORE.

Nevada National Mining Company Strikes it in Paulsen Canyon. Two feet of $50 ore don't sound very big on paper. That is what the Nevada National company has on its Paulson canyon property—two feet of $50 ore in place. By that we mean the lowest average assay of the ledge is in the neighborhood of $50—to be exact, $47.20 per ton. This was from the fairest possible sample of the ledge, which has been opened for a distance of about 40 feet by an incline shaft. Other samples from the ledge have returned assay values of from $80 to $170 per ton, which show that the vein has rich spots and may be expected to do better than $50 per ton. High grade has been found in this Paulsen canyon ledge, too. Superintendent Nels Paulsen has some of the finest specimens of free gold to be found anywhere. Paulsen canyon may rival even the famous Round Mountain district as a producer of high grade.—Goldfield Tribune,

THE COPPER COMBINE.

Boston Reports State That Amalga-mated Will Not be Included.

We understand from one who has attended the recent copper conferences in New York that the copper consoli-dation now in process of formation will not include the Amalgamated Copper company, says the Boston Financial News.

The plan which is now being worked out is said to be the formation of a holding company along the lines of the Amalgamated, and although the new company will not include the Amalgamated, the two will work in

for two reasons, first, because it is quite impossible to consolidate a holding company with operating companies, and, second, because it is the object of the organizers to avoid any semblance of a copper metal monopoly.

Our informant tells us that the consolidation is as far from culmination today as it was at the beginning of negotiations several months ago—so far as an agreement is concerned, but he states, on the other hand, that a point has been reached where they are debating the worth of the various properties which are to be included and on this point there has been much heated discussion.

will be included which are known to have value and realizing this all mine owners who are willing to go into the combine have been pushing their productions to the limit in order to obtain the best terms possible in the exchange of stocks. This is a subject which has created a lot of discussion in the conferences. Incidentally this policy of producers in pushing production to the limit in the face of low prices for the metal accounts for the steady expansion in the production of copper as reported by the Copper Producers' Association each month. ciation each month

AT THE OHIO COPPER CO.'S MILL.

Manager Colin Mackintosh said everything was in readiness at the mine for starting the Ohio Copper company's mill last night. It was the intention to start the machinery moving last night and after running a few hours without any load, so as to limber up the machinery, Mr. Mackintosh expected the mill would start crushing ore today. As to whether this had been done or not he had not heard this morning, as the telephone line was out order. The bins at the mill are order. The bins at the mill are all full of ore and everything is ready for crushing. The trains have been haul-ing ore since Sunday. It has been found that the company will be able to haul 18 trains daily from the mine to the mill, with ease. It takes about 25 minutes to make the run, or about one

PRICE CHANGES SMALL AND MIXED

New York, Nov. 22.—Opening dealings in stocks today were small in most cases, but there were large transactions in Reading at an advance of %. Utah Copper rose 14. The price changes in the general list were small and mixed. The show of strength made by a few stocks was taken advantage of to press sales, under which prices fell violently to below yesterday's close. Pressure was particularly severe against the copper stocks and Reading. There was a demonstration of strength in the Gould stocks which lifted Texas & Pacific 1 and Wabash preferred 1%. In the heavy liquidation which broke out again at 11 o'clock Amalgamated Copper slumped 4½. Reading 2%, American Smelling and Anaconda 2½, and many prominent stocks a point or more.

The rally ran to a point in Reading and Amalgamated Copper. 1½ in Anaconda, 1½ in Utah Copper. Stocks were anioaded again and Union Pacific sold below 200. Colorado Fuel and International Harvester fell 2 points.

The report of an extra division on central Railroad of New Jersey caused an active buying movement in Reading which soon made up its previous loss. The movement in this stock strengthened the whole market again, and some of the copper stocks rallled a point or more from their low prices. Railroad were quiet, American Snuff dropped 9½ and American Car 2 points.

An attack on Reading drove it down to near the low point, the price falling 2 helow yesterday's close. The rest of the list was only slightly affected, and when the Pacific and Wabash preferred were marked up the whole list hardened. I nion Pacific, Southern Pacific, St. Paul and other western stocks sold fractionally over last night and Wabash preferred 2%. Reading also scored a pretty full recovery, but broke rapidly again at 2 o'clock,

The market closed firm. Closing from uncovered shorts kept the market quite steady although Reading was irregular. Southern Pacific and Western Union rose 1 and Consolidated Gas 2.

NEWSBOY THUG CAPTURED.

Frank Smith, Who Assaulted Fred W.

Foulger, Landed at Callente, Nev.

Frank Smith, one of the newsboys representing the Denver Post, who "jumped" a $500 bond after being arraigned in the police court on the charge of assaulting Fred W. Foulger, a window dresser, employed at Walker's store about a week ago, has been captured by officers representing the bondsmen in Callente. Nev. Smith will be brought back to Salf Lake City to stand trial for the assault. Young Foulger, his victim, has been removed from the Groves L. D. S. hospital to his mother's home at 1020 Jefferson avenue, and it is understood he will soon be well enough to testify against his assailant. Simon Leman, the other newsboy thug, who participated in the assault, is still missing, but the police are close upon his trail and hope to land him right away.

The Result Nearly Brought Men to Blows This Morning. A one sided dog-fight, a near man-fight, an exhibition of bulldog tenacity

fight, an exhibition of bulldog tenacity and also of man's brutality, were features of effervescent life on Main street shortly before noon today.

A husky bulldog, apparently good natured, was trotting along Main street just north of Second South, when a mangy canine described as "just dog," rushed at the bulldog with the evident purpose of chewing him up. The cur was spoiling for a fight, and the bulldog appeared willing, but the owner of the latter held his animal back until the cur dog had made three attacks and then he turned his pet loose. The next minute the air was pierced with howls of pain. The bulldog got a neck hold on his tormentor and like the average bulldog held on.

In a few seconds there were two or three hundred men and boys surround-ing the dogs. The bull was kicked on the head, in the ribs and beaten with canes and umbrellas, but he had startcanes and umbrellas, but he had started out for vengeance and was determined to get it. Finally, the cur dog's life was saved by a plucky boy who seized the bulldog-by the caudal appendage and dragged him off.

This was followed by a near manight. A member of the crowd got the bulldog by the collar and an-

He started to carry out his brutal purpose when a young man fulcily seized the brutal fellow and calmly told him if he harmed the dog he would decorate the pavement with pieces of the would-be dog murderer. The latter looked like fight for a few seconds, but only for DELINQUENT NOTICE.
